

Individuals needing the basic certification will need to complete the following:

S-130

Modules can be found here:

In house training and manipulative skills exam correlate with the attachment - Fire Chief or qualified Officer demonstrates the completion of each skill and student demonstrates each skill to the Fire Chief or qualified Officer (closed book).

When you have the 5 online certs and the manipulative skills training completed, then contact the Fire Warden or a qualified single resource boss to schedule a field day/manipulative skills test. They will be tested on the fire shelter skill and two random skills.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Dan

Looking at the above email, once we have the modules done.
All we need to is in house manipulative skills training. Then set a time with Dan for a field day and manipulative skills test.
And boom easiest red card ever. But the modules are brutal just saying

S-130 Firefighter Training - Field Review

S-130, Firefighter Training, has been revised and is currently in field review. Field review generates valuable feedback from actual course deliveries, and is a critical step in the course development process.

While in field review status, this course is considered provisionally certified for intragency use. Course delivery is fully creditable and successful students may be issued the NWCG Training Course Completion Certificate, PMS 921-1.

NWCG requests that units delivering this course assist with the review by completing the field review form.

Instructor-led Course Description

The intent of this course is to train new firefighters in basic firefighting skills. This includes a required field exercise that may be arduous in nature.

S-190: Introduction to Wildland Fire Behavior is a prerequisite and must have been successfully completed prior to taking the S-130: Firefighter Training course.

Delivery Information, Blended Course Option (2008 version)

Blended Course Description

S-190: Introduction to Wildland Fire behavior is a prerequisite and must have been successfully completed prior to taking the S-130: Firefighter Training, course.

I-180: Human Factors on the Fireline, is no longer included as part of this course. Students that successfully complete S-130: Firefighter Training will no longer be given credit for completing I-180: Human Factors on the Fireline.

The I-180 course will now be presented as a standalone course. This can be accomplished through directing students to complete the Self-Directed (Online) version of the course.

- Self-Directed (Online) Information

Instructions for Online

1. Complete the online component (see below).
2. You will be directed to the National Fire Academy (NFA) Online website. You will need an NFA Online account to take this course; follow directions on the NFA Online website to obtain an account. Search for course title in the catalog and add the online course to your "To-Do-List." The NFA Online learning management system will track your progress. Note: There is an optional module available called "Optional Knowledge Areas" under "Easy Links" on the student's "Home" page tab that covers the following topics: pump operations, navigation, wildland fire investigation, and cultural resources. This optional module is not tracked in the NFA Online learning management system and will not issue a certificate upon completion. This module is only for your benefit to gain additional knowledge.

finally

One more thing after completing a module it will ask you to start the exam and the window disappears. Don't freak out go back to your browser and click return to course content and select the exam there
